

March 26, 1977 Saturday

Dear Vicki and Jimmy,

I am going to the beauty salon in a few minutes so will write to you first. I have had a busy week with Diane as we have taken her to the doctor two times and she has stayed with me much of the time. Her ears are clearing up but she has a cold now but that shouldn't last very long.

The King Tut exhibit is coming to Seattle this summer so I want to be sure to see it. We saw on television the crowds in Washington D. C. who were trying to get in to see the exhibit and we looked for you two.

Tonight we are going to Donnelly's for dinner and bridge. I had them over last Saturday night and we won three dollars from them so they are anxious to get it back. They were here for seven hours and John's portable oxygen tank lasts for six hours but it had a little extra in it and he can also go without it for awhile so he got along just fine.

Jeannie caught up with you, Jimmy, Monday. Sunday Scotty Jewett is going to be baptized in the Church of Christ and Ruthie wants us all to attend but I don't know if I will go or not. I will decide that tomorrow.

It is windy and rainy today and our grass is getting awfully long but one of these days we will get it mowed. Your temperature there is just about like ours.

Mary will be starting her classes at the university next week. She will be going Tuesday and Thursdays nights. I will get to have Diane then. I had better stop for now as I want to go to the super market and the post office before I get my hair fixed.

Love,

Mom.
